A Taste Of Reality From Mary Ann Bernal

About the Author

Mary Ann Bernal, author of The Briton and the Dane novels, is an avid history buff whose area of interest focuses on Ninth Century Anglo-Saxon Britain during the Viking Age. While pursuing a degree in business administration, she managed to fit creative writing classes and workshops into her busy schedule to learn the craft, but it would take decades before her "Erik the Viking" novel was ultimately published.

Mary Ann is also a passionate supporter of the United States military, having been involved with letter writing campaigns and other support programs since Operation Desert Storm. She has appeared on The Morning Blend television show hosted by KMTV, the CBS television affiliate in Omaha, and was interviewed by the Omaha World-Herald for her volunteer work. She has also been a featured author on Triangle Variety Radio, The Phil Naessens Show, and The Writers Showcase, and has been interviewed extensively by American and European bloggers.

Mary Ann is a New York "expat," and currently resides in Omaha, Nebraska.

The Wizard Returns With Carla

Author, Mary Ann Bernal

Today the spotlight is on Mary Ann Bernal's short story, Out of the Depths, from the anthology Reality Bites, published by Green Wizard Publishing.

Excerpt from Out of the Depths (Reality Bites) written by Mary Ann Bernal:

When did I first suspect that Helen had been unfaithful. To be honest, I never suspected; I had to catch her in bed with her lover before admitting the truth to myself. I remember coming home unexpectedly to find her in our bed, our marital bed, which is sacrosanct, with Trevor, her boss, of all people! I could not believe Helen could betray me like this, especially after making love to me earlier that morning in the very same bed.

What hurt the most was her lack of remorse. She even laughed at my pain, her hurtful words a floodgate of loathing. While I thought our relationship was fine, and that we would survive the storm, she, on the other hand, was seething with rage and resentment. She was tired of supporting me, physically, mentally and financially. She had had enough, but why did she not tell me. Perhaps she tried, and I did not listen.

You think I was at fault, that my drinking pushed her away, do you not? You have no use for my self-pity, do you? Ah, what makes you so righteous? You think you would have behaved differently. I dare say, not! You would have wallowed in self-pity just like I did, only your way of dealing with your demons might have been different. Instead of alcohol you might have turned to drugs, or threw yourself into your job, or took up religion. How do you know what you would have done until you have actually experienced the pain?
